TMACOG President Reams Elected to National Post

Anthony L. Reams, the president of the Toledo Metropolitan Area Council of Governments (TMACOG) was elected chair of the Executive Director's Council of the National Association of Regional Councils (NARC) at NARC's annual conference on regions in Washington D.C. in February.

NARC is an alliance of regionally focused organizations – including councils of government, other regional planning and development groups, and metropolitan planning organizations (MPOs) – that fosters regional cooperation and collaboration and promotes regional excellence. Reams has been a member of the NARC Executive Director's Council since 2004 serving in various positions.
