Tuesday, March 6
Doors open 7 p.m.
Meeting at 7:30 p.m.

We listened to you.
We looked at the facts.
We now have an action plan for our future.

DID WE GET IT RIGHT?

Will YOU be able to get where you want to go?
Will we be a stronger freight hub?
Will this be a better place to live?

In the 1988 plan, our community called for a new Maumee River crossing, and in 2007 the Veterans’ Glass City Skyway will be open and changing our community. Come see our region’s vision for the next twenty years.

For more information, contact TMACOG, 419-241-9155, visit www.tmacog.org or visit your local library.

Brought to you by the On the Move Task Force with the support of many community organizations.

Big Bridges are Born at TMACOG

In 1988, TMACOG published a long-term transportation plan identifying a new Maumee River crossing as our region’s top priority. Congratulations to ODOT and the whole construction community for bringing the vision to life.

Now, TMACOG is working on the next 20-year plan. Come and see what exciting projects are being planned for our future.

Friday, March 2, 11:30 a.m. – 1 p.m. at the Toledo-Lucas County Public Library, downtown Toledo

TRANSPORTATION FUTURE ON DISPLAY AT MEETINGS

There is no crystal ball, no random scattered tea leaves, no palm readings, but a window to Toledo’s future is on display this month.

The Toledo Metropolitan Area Council of Governments is hosting meetings during which the public can review and comment on a draft of its newest long-term transportation plan, “On the Move: 2007-2035 Transportation Plan.”

I often hear people say they feel left out of the governmental process once they leave the ballot box, that major initiatives are proposed and implemented before citizens have time to review or comment on them.

TMACOG has posted the full draft list of projects and regional initiatives on its Web site, www.tmacog.org. Draft plans and comment sheets will also be available at public libraries in Lucas County, Wood County and the southern-most townships in Monroe County, Mich., through the middle of March.

Five meetings have already taken place. The final meeting is at 7 p.m. March 12 at the Maumee Branch Library. Doors will at 6:30 p.m. to allow people to review displays on the draft.

Among the 82 proposed projects are a proposal to widen I-75 to six lanes and the construction of a Trans-Pacific Inland Port, a rail and truck freight terminal.

On April 4, the TMACOG Transportation Council will hold a final public meeting and then vote on approving the plan. Federal approval will then be sought so portions of the plan can be enacted July 1.

Kudos to TMACOG for actively seeking public input on these important projects. It’s a window to the future and other local governmental bodies could benefit by the example of accessibility TMACOG is setting.
